DIRECTOR: WHITE HOUSE SITUATION ROOM

SUBJECT: CAMBODIAN MILITARY SITUATION

The military situation in the Phnom Penh area was unusually quiet over the weekend. On the southern front government progress in clearing Route 201 slowed considerably in the face of several enemy attacks. Government forces moving toward each other have not yet linked up but have reoccupied the Route 38/201 intersection. Meanwhile, the government operation on the northwest front has stalled in the face of determined enemy resistance. There are indications that the Communists are planning a limited upsurge in activity southeast of the capital to include attacks against several government defensive positions south of Route 1.
